From Jane Skinner

Listening to the 'Moral Maze' on Radio 4 and a discussion about the value of remembering for the two minutes silence on Armistice Day at 11am. The panelists agreed it's valuable but should not only look back with thankfulness. For this corporate act to be of value, we need to see it as a mirror to hold up to our current society and direction of political travel across the nations, especially of Europe - including ourselves. Peace is vulnerable in our villages as much as across the world. How quickly we can or could become engulfed in violence. There is talk about being on a war footing now that disruption can come from IT being compromised in security, business and logistics. How important it is that we live as peacemakers, giving no foothold to retaliation, resentment, revenge or rumour in our dealings with neighbours. We will soon be anticipating the coming of the Prince of Peace, a good moment to ask for forgiveness, apologise and reach out open hands in friendship. May we cultivate harmony even - or especially - with people with whom we disagree. Jane

Saturday 14th November offers two opportunities to support one (or two) of our local churches. From 10am The Friends of St. Nectan's Stoke are holding a Coffee Morning in Hartland Parish Hall to raise funds for repairs to the church building. There will be a Cake Stall and Christmas Tombola and the Raffle will be drawn at 11.15am. From 11am - 2.30pm, St. Andrew's is hosting an Autumn Fair at Alwington Village Hall. There will be stalls and food! See posters.

As ever, if you are sending me photos, PLEASE send them as .jpg or .png attachments for me to download, as it takes so much time to unravel them otherwise and this format is suitable for loading directly to the website without my having to play with them! Thank you, Tricia
